THE ELECTION.

THE ELECTION.

The extraordinary defeat of the sx-Prime Minister at Manobaster and the recent great Liberal gains look as though the polling is going strong against the Unionists. But it must be reassubsred that the Liberal-Labour partly has great many victories yet to win, for in order to gain a majoritylof fifty over Unionists and Nationalists, the partly must perform the almost superhuman fast of capturing no fewer than 172 seath; counting 344 votes on a division. This arterangent as it appears, is sortaally forty rotes lower than the forecast of Mr. W.T. Steed, who predicted a transverse of 192 seath, counting 384 on a division. We now truce the finite transfer of 1939 to the voting since the General Riscotion of 1939.

Mother and Daughter Asphyxiated.

On a cold night, a few days ago, a native woman and her daughter, of Kafr Sakr, went to bed in a closed room with a charcoal fire. In the morning the mother and daughter we: found dead in their beds. The post-mortem examination showed that death was due to suffocation.

Alexandria's Tranquillity.

The celebration of Greek New Year's Day passed off very quietly. Every precaution had been taken by the Alexandria City Police to cope with any disturbance that might occur. The guards at each police station throughout the ci y were doubted and mounted policemen patrolled the streets, but there was not the slightest disturbance. In fact, the tranquillity of the city now-a-days is absolutely unparalleled. Death of Mr. Stiliano Platidis.

We regret to announce the death of the director of the Greek Hospital at Alexandria, Mr. Stiliano Platidis, which occurred early on Saturday morning from heart disease. took place on Saturday afternoon, at 4.30 o'c'ock, and was largely attended by all classes of the Hellenic community of Alexan dria, by whom the deceased was held in high Capture of Noted Murderer.

This morning a Bedeuin was brought into Alexandria from Mariout by an escort of the Sudanese policemen who guard, over that district. The man is a notorious malefactor and some three years ago committed a murder under most atrocious circumstances in the neighbourhood of Kafr Dawar. He escaped into the desert and was sentenced in his absence to penal servitude for life. About two years ago he committed another savage murder in Mariout aud again he managed to evade the clutches of the police and was once more sen tenced in his absence to penal servitude for life. However, the police kept watch for the man and yesterday he appeared at Amrieh, where he was recognised and captured.

An Excellent Example.

In view of the increase in the cost of living in this country, the excellent example set by Messrs. Walker and Meimarachi, Ltd., is one which should be extensively followed. The firm have on the occasion of the New Year increased the salaries of their employes by amounts which in the aggregate totals several hundred pounds. The appreciation that this humanitarian action, which is due to Mr. C. Meimarachi, has met with at the hands of the empleyés basefited, cannot be better expressed than by reproducing the letter which they have addressed to their popular managing director:-

Monsieur, Par la présente nous venons d'abord vous souhait Par la présente nous venons d'abord vous souhaiter nos veux les plus sincères pour une année heureuse et florissante et vous exprimer en même temps nos plus vifs remerciements et toute notre reconnaissance pour les augmentations que vous avez bien voulu approuver. Les augmentations que vous nous avez accordées viennent juste à propos pour faire face à la cherté de tout comme alimentation et loyer, etc.

Veuillez, monsieur l'administrateur, agréer avec nos remerciements anticipés nos sentiments de profond respect.

The feeling of the country with regard to the lections is unmistakable. It is obviously tired of seeing Balfour batting and is more inclined to give the other side an innings rather than ight it out on any definite issue, although Mr. Balfour has been ornshingly defeated. Lanca-shire has undoubtedly again championed the policy of free imports, which is not unnatural, considering the present great prosperity of the

KHEDIVIAL OPERA, CAIRO.

AIDA.

On Friday night Aida was played before a full and enthusiastic house, which was generous artistic taste in demanding encores at the wrong moment. A particularly flagrant instance of this occurred in the 3rd act, when Amonasro having hurled his undutiful daughter to the ground, was encouraged to repeat the perfor-mance by the plaudits of the greater part of the audience and very properly declined. At other times a pause of a few bars in an aria was utilised by members of the dress circle to "bis" the soloist. Those who knew the opera better hissed them into silence, but the resulting din more than once prevented a good piece of orchestral music from being properly heard. The next musical reform required in Cairo is the abolition of the "encore" but we shall ever get it.

Now for the opera and artistes. Aida opened badly, the artistes were nervous, the audience cold till the consecration scene. Henceforth the singing improved steadily. Signors Lavin as Amueris and Sig. Amato (Amonasro) were really good. Signora Russ (Aida) improved greatly after the first act but there seeme be a certain want of tone in her higher notes. Sig. Nicolaou. (Ramfis) sang with the papal dignity that befitted a high priest of Ra, but dignity that befitted a high priest of Ra, but
Sig. Langobardi was uneven—poor at the opening, better in the third act, and rather report.

Increase of the pay of the employes and I.S. 15,000 on the creation of an inspectorate—opening, better in the third act, and rather report. weak in the fourth, in which he seemed to have overstrained his voice. Pharaoh was rather stiff, while the corps du ballet were positively wooden; their movements were characteris by a complete absence of grace and their raining appeared to have been utterly neglected. On the other hand, the chorus was really good and the orchestra highly satisfactory.

The gallery behaved as the gallery does in fiction of the knockabout sort. Such performances are amusing in narrative but peculiarly mances are amoung in narrative but pecularly trying in realitie. There were no unnecessary delays, nothing, in fact, that could justify a section of the audience in behaving like the habitués of an eighth-rate music hall. THE MAHMAL.

ARRIVAL AT SUEZ.

POLICEMAN'S EXCESS OF ZEAL.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

Suez. Sunday. The Mahmal reached Suez yesterday at noon by a special train, which was saluted from the ort with 21 guns. The procession through the principal streets of Suez started at 2.30 p.m. It was exceptionally well organized this year and was headed by H.E. the Governor of Sucz on hor e'nck. The procession consisted of Cavalry, Infantry, Artillery with field and Mexim gons, and a military band, all of which presented a brilliant aspect.

In spite of the good order maintained, regrettable incident occurred while the Mahmal was passing the Italian Consulate On the verandah of the consulate there was a French lady, who, seeing the Holy Carpet for the first time, was endeavouring to take a snapshot of it with her camera. A constable, however, on seeing the lady taking a photo, called out to her to go into the house, and as the lady did not take any notice of his absurd demands, he began to threw stones at her, thus drawing the attention of the considerable number of natives following the carpet, who might very possibly have followed his example. Fortunately, the Italian Consul, Mr. Deperais, happened to be on the verandah also at the time, and promptly sent his janissary to take the constable's umber, and order him to withdraw, which he did after insulting the consul by shouting out "inta min," etc.

Another photographer who took up his star near the station was stoned by the mob.

The Mahmal is leaving Suez to day by the

CAIRO EMBEZZLEMENT CASE

BRITISH CONSULAR COURT.

CASE SENT BEFORE SUPREME COURT.

Thomas Fraser Thomson was charged before Mr. Alban at H.B.M.'s Consular Court Cairo, on Saturday morning with embezzling the sum of L E. 267 belouging to Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son (Egypt), Ltd. The first witnes was Mr. Harrison, who stated that he knew accused, who was employed as a clerk at Messrs. Cook's engineering works at Poulac, where he had been working since June. He stated that in consequence of information received he had taken steps to prosecute accused. The details of the case were known to Mr. Sibbald, Messrs. Cook's superintending ngineer. Mr. T. K. Sibbald stated that he had known accused for some six months as his chief corresponding clerk. On Friday week he found Thomson missing from the office in the morning and asked Mr. Reynolds, the Assistant Saperintendent, where he was. In consequence of communications received from Mr. Reynolds and a bowab he went down himself to Messrs Cook's dahabeah, where he found accused in bed with all his clothes on and very drunk. He could make no coherent statement. On the following day accused did not appear and on Monday witness received a wire from Port Said in which accused said he was recuperating and would come to work on Tuesday. As did not appear witness communicated with Messrs. Cangos and Co., contractors, and asked them if they h.d. received railway policies for explosives and whether they had paid any sums to Thomson. He found that a cheque on the Anglo-Egyptian Bank had been given to accused in payment of an account and cashed by accused at the Anglo-Egyptian Bank.

Mr. Cangos deposed—with a certain vague ness as to dates—that the accused came to see him re an order he had given to Mesers. Cook for detonators and gelignite for the Fayoum. in payment was signed by witness's partner Kassim Bey Husni and made out by witness's olerk Perioles Kyticaki.

Selim Abassi, cashier of the Anglo-Egyptian Bank, Cairo, recollected the accused's calling at the Bank. Accused asked for a cheque made payable to Messrs. Cook. When cheques were presented at the bank the usual course followed was to hand the cheque over to the accountant to see whether the signatory had credit and the cheque was then passed on to credit and the cheque was then passed on to the eashier for payment. This cheque was made payable to Thos. Cook & Son or bearer. Witness gave accused £250 in banknotes, the rest in eash. In answer to a question put by the accused, witness stated that the num-bers of bank notes were never kept. Notes and cash were given to any persons, even Berberine servants, presenting cheques that were in good order.

Perioles Kyticaki, Mr. Canges' accountant, stated that he took an order for gelignite and detonators, and had to telephone to Mesers. Thos. Cook and Sons asking them to hurry up matters. On January 5 accused came with two railway policies and a receipt for the value of the order, £274 16.5, in pencil. He correborated M. Cango's statements in the writing out and signature of the obsque.

The court then adjourned pending the arrival of Mr. Reynolds. On his arrival Mr. Reynolds gave evidence corroborating Mr. Sibbald's statements, and identified the prisoner's handwriting on the receipt and in the endorsement of the cheque cashed at the Anglo-Egyptian Bank.

Evidence of arrest was given and accused was committed for trial before the Supreme Consular Court. Mr. Harrison requested the Court to fix the amount of bail as low as possible, saying that he should be very sorry to think that the prisoner might be kept in prison longer than was necessary pending was allowed in two sureties of £50.

DISTURBANCE AT DAMANHOUR

Our Damanhour Correspondent reports that a disturbance took place in that town yesterday, a conflict having arisen between a number of Jews and the natives, on the occasion of the celebration of a Jewish feast. WHAT THE WOMEN WORE.

Pressure on our space on Saturday prevented us from dealing with the social aspect of Friday's Skye Meeting at the K. S. C. grounds, Gheziveh. In spite of its being one of the smaller meetings there were many people present, and it was by far the smartest meeting we have seen this season. Among others we noticed:—General Bullock, Sir William Garstin, Hon. L. M. Iddings, Baroness and the Miles de Villeboi-, Major and Mrs. Herbert, Capt. and Mrs. Maclean, Sir John and Lady Rogers, Capt. and Mrs. Bailey, Major and Mrs. Capt. and Mrs. Rome, Coles Pacha, Mrs. and the Misses Coles, Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hewitt, Mr. Allan Jo-eph and Miss Joseph, Mrs. French, Omar Bey Sultan, Ishak Bey Hussein, the Hon. C. Yorke, Mr. Carter Wilson, Major Herbert, Col. Ayimer, Mr. Dicey, Mr. Forestier-Walker, Mr. Satow, Mr. Reid, Capt. Gillson, Mr. A. L. Mr. Forestier-Walker, Mr. Satow, Mr. Reid, Capt. Gillson, Mr. A. L. Moberley, Mr. Carter Wilson, Mr. Rumbold, Mr. Greville, and Capt. Bartlett.

Sir Augustus and Lady Hemming were there, the latter in dark blue with lace appliquée, while Miss Hemming was in a cream accordion-pleated skirt and pretty lace-trimmed blouse. Capt. and Mrs. Morgan were also present, Mrs. Morgan in a lovely Parisian frock of lace with narrow applications of pale grey cloth set as flounces on the skirt, and composing the samart little coatee and three-corned hat. Mrs. Wyone was in white cloth, inset with coarse net and trimmed with silk braid, lines of genging drawing the fulness of the back into the waist. Her hat of felt had the brim lined with fine straw and was tilted high on one side by a cachpeigne of brown velvet and adorned on the other side by sweeping plumes. Mrs. Royle was in dark blue, the corsage slashed with much lace, and Mrs. Maclean was in white cloth, the pleats of both belero and skirt fastened down by small buttone, buttons also forming the trimming at the hem of the skirt and on the elbow sleeves. The Miles de Villebois were in dark blue and wore black hata, and Mms. de Martino was gowned in brown and had a couple of peacook's feathers in her toque. Mrs. Parsons was also in brown, and Mrs. Claude Rome was in white with a large round hat of rose colour. Miss de Bilinski was in a long blue cloth coat and skirt, and Miss Lampson, who brought her young brother, was wearing a long coat and skirt of broderie anglaise made over pale green. Mrs. Rom had on a gown of grey and green shot taffatas, with applications of green cloth and a short coat, also of green, and Miss Begg was in an embroidered heliotrope crep de-Chine made with many thick cordings. Mrs. Armstrong was in white serge and Mrs. Valentine-Smith was wearing a long coat and skirt of broderie anglaise made over pale green. Mrs. Rom had on a gown of grey and green shot taffatas, with applications of green cloth and a short coat, also of green, and Miss Begg was i

Sir Malcolm McIlwraith was in grey with a diamond pin in his corsage, and Mr. Dunlop wore a pink rose and was as neatly coffé as ever. The latest bridegroom, Mr. Machell, was present draped in darkblue, relieved by touches of white at the neck and wrists. Sir Horace Pinching, always so well dressed, looked very handsome in a grey Homburg hat and a white waist-coat with much passamenteric trimming, and Doctors Keatinge and Madden. were as well turned out as ever. Dr. Clark wore the latest creation of Davies Bryan with a full pink satin tie tucked into the decolletage, and Mr. Friend's fine figure was well set off by a orêpe-de-Chine aquiscutam. Major Delavoye looked as handsome as ever in a tweed sac coat made very full at the back and with the latest toad-in-the-hole shape in tweed hats. Mr. Carter-Wilson wore a princess made confection of the fashionable Vermouth-ard-bitters colour, with a new ribbon on his chip straw hat. Mr. Amos wore his usual smile and a black bowler hat. It is believed that a safe seat has been found for Mr. Balfour at Eccles.

Unionist clubs recognise the fact that the tide is flowing with the Liberals, and are preparing for the worst. Even strong candidates are beginning to quake, knowing that vacillators always follow the lead of previous elections.

Liberal headquarters are proportionately jubilant, and are confident of a big independent majority.

REPORTED FUSION OF HAMBURG-AMERIKA & N. D. L. S. CO

A report is current in Berlin financial circles which ought to be well informed that furthe which ought to be well informed that furtuely negotiations between the Hamburg-Amerika and North German Lloyd Steamship Companies have brought a fusion of the two undertakings considerably nearer realization. Although the dispute was settled a fortnight ago, further conferences between Herr Ballin and Herr Wiegand took place towards the end of week, and it is said that the question of amalgamation was discussed in detail.

It is further stated that these two gentlemendrew up the outlines of a definite scheme for presentation to the general meeting of their presentation to the general meeting of their respective companies. It is impossible to obtain definite particulars of what has passed, owing to the fact that both companies persistently re-fuse all information. It is certain, however, that one or two of the leading financial houses in Berlin have made extensive purchases of the shares of both the Hamburg and the Bremen companies in anticipation of amal-gamation, which would probably result in considerable financial gain to the shareholder

It is also stated the contracts which the North German Lloyd recently concluded with the Russian Government for the transport of troops from Vladivostok to Odessa contained clause providing for the possibility of fusion.

INTERESTING EXTRACTS.

A few days ago we reviewed M. A. de Geerville's recently published work "New Egypt." This lively book lends itself to some extracts, which will give on readers some idea of the egcellence of its contents. Here is a description of some aspects of Cairo in the season, which in some persons' opinion may justify the appellation of "Grave of the Suil" which has been betweed on airo in the season, which in some persons' pinion may justify the appellation of "Graves of the Siu" which has been be towed on he say capital of Egypt;—

There is something in the air of Egypt, a something which seems to excite every one, more or less, which almost maddens certain natures, especially of the weaker sex, and which seems to drive them to a continuous pursuit of all the pleasures of the senses. The result is that all the world flirts, and the most extraordinary atories run the round of the hotels. Young girls seem to have a very pronounced weakness for the Egyptian, a weakness which sometimes seems to lead to an entire a besone of any idea of "les convenances." A young Egyptian, if the convenances." A young Egyptian is the second of a convenances." A young Egyptian is only the convenances." A young Egyptian is only the convenances." A young Egyptian is winter, and the way in which these young girls trove themselves at our, heads would astonish the world. Several of us, for sport, formed a society which we called the 'terrassiers,' because we 'did' the terrases of the various hotels, but it was no use, we had togive it up; no constitution could stand the success which covered our efforts." But the advantures of these young blades plas before those of the dragomans, these splendid men, but ill like Hercales, strong as horses, and so picturesque in their native costume. Their duty is to serve as guide and interpreter, to organise everything for their masters, excervines and parties of all sorts. Like the Arabs, the Egyptians and all the Orientals from the lowest to the highest, the content of the orientals from the lowest to the highest, the content of the orientals from the lowest to the highest, the content of the orientals from the lowest to the highest, the content of the orientals from the lowest to the highest, the content of the orientals from the lowest to the highest.

their maters, excursions and parties of all acrt. Like the Arabs, the Egyptians and all the Orientals from the lowest to the highest, the dragomans are med where a European or an American woman is concerned. For them they represent the acms of sexual attraction, and at least, for the lowest class, age and looks are quite unimportant. One attraction, and, at least, for the lowest class, age and looks are quite unimportant. One can then pushaps understand, if not forgive, the woman whose looks have suffered from the passing of the years, or who, born with a lack of the fatal gift, has lingered long in the cold shades of neglect, sering eveguty the opportunity or be boximing an object on adoration, in engaging an Egyptian drago-

Than follow some curious stories. The follow some curious stories. The young American girl and the "moustiquairo" is in fact far too risqué for our chaste columns.
